

Langston Center

Thursday, September 27 | 12:00 – 3:00 PM | VCU School of Nursing

Annual Symposium for "State of the Science - QSEN's Influence on Education and Practice"

Keynote

- "QSEN - The Movement: Embracing the Quality and Safety Cultures in Academic and Service Environments" by Gerry Altmiller, Ed.D., APRN, ACNS-BC, associate professor, The College of New Jersey and clinical nurse specialist consultant, Einstein Healthcare Network

A major leader in the Quality and Safety Education in Nursing (QSEN) movement, Altmiller has consulted with the National Council of State Boards of Nursing on its Transition to Practice program. She also serves on the QSEN Institute Advisory Board and has conducted research to examine provider incivility and its impact on patient safety. Her keynote will be followed by a multidisciplinary panel discussion on several key topics, including big data and its influence on quality, the patient experience, and interprofessional perspectives on elevating provider safety.

Gerry Altmiller

Program

- 12:00 – 12:45 PM Lunch and posters
- 12:45 – 3:00 PM Keynote and presentations

You are welcome to attend all or any portion of the symposium as your schedule permits.

FOR MORE DETAILS AND TO REGISTER, VISIT
GO.VCU.EDU/LANGSTONSYMPOSIUM

VCU Langston Center for Quality,
Safety and Innovation
School of Nursing