Don't Miss the 2018 QSEN Conference:

This year’s Quality and Safety Education for Nurses (QSEN) National Forum will focus on the competency of evidence-based practice. Keynote speaker Dr. Bernadette Melnyk will open the conference sharing solutions for breaking down silos between academia and practice for integrating competencies of evidence-based practice to move quality and patient safety forward. As always, attendees can expect presentations from experts on QSEN integration in academia and practice. Evidence-based teaching strategies to implement the QSEN competencies in classroom, clinical, orientation, and continuing education will be shared through over 50 oral presentations and 90 poster presentations. Attendees will return to their institutions ready to effectively implement the QSEN competencies and prepared to support colleagues and students in improving the quality and safety of healthcare.

Parkinson's Disease (PD) is the second most common neurodegenerative disorder of adults, yet a survey showed that there is minimal content in nursing school curricula on PD. The Edmond J Safra Visiting Nurse Faculty Program at Parkinson’s Foundation is a 40 CEU approved nursing faculty development course that provides didactics, clinical time with patients, participation in a PD support group and the opportunity to develop an independent project. A $2,000 stipend accompanies the 40 CEUs for nursing faculty who complete the requirements. Two-day programs cover the didactic portion during which time you can schedule clinical hours, learn about support group attendance and the independent project. Four-day programs include clinical hours.

There are 7 program locations offered in the United States in 2018. In Fall 2018, programs will be offered in Birmingham, AL, Phoenix, AZ, and New York City, NY. All sites have an internationally known multidisciplinary faculty to guide your learning. See www.ParkinsonsNursing.com

Nurse faculty who teach geriatrics, gero-psych, neurology, pathophysiology, pharmacology and community health would benefit from this program.

The Edmond J. Safra Visiting Nurse Faculty Program at Parkinson's Foundation sends email announcements to select recipients about this faculty nurse development opportunity exclusively. This academic program is our primary focus. If you have questions or would like us to remove your name from our list, please reply to this email.

Global Health Opportunities
It is a three-year campaign run in collaboration with WHO and the International Council of Nurses with the UK All Party Parliamentary Group on Global Health as co-chair. The campaign will be launched in several cities such as Geneva, London, Kampala y North Carolina in Feb. 27. The campaign points out five goals to be achieved by 2020: investment in nursing education, professional development, standards, regulation and employment conditions; effective and innovative practice in nursing; greater influence for nurses and midwifery; nurses in leadership position and more evidence for policy and decision makers.

Peer-reviewed teaching strategies are available on the QSEN website. Consider submitting your teaching strategy for publication on our website. We now offer coaching for all teaching_strategy submissions.

Math Task Force Survey Link

Participate in a survey to help us understand math preparation and education for nurses.....

Here is the link to the survey: Math Task Force - Math for Nurses Survey

Dear Colleagues: Thank you so much for taking the time to help us create a general understanding of the landscape of mathematical preparation for nurses! This survey should take approximately 10 minutes to complete. More specifically the purpose of this survey is to 1) gather information to guide the work of the QSEN Task Force on High-Quality Mathematical Preparation for Nurses as we work to improve the quality and safety in patient care by improving the mathematical prep of nurses and 2) to take the pulse of the mathematics education that nurses experience across the country.
Please feel free to forward this to others at your institution who could also add meaningful responses to the survey.

For more information on the Task Force, please see the QSEN website for more information (http://qsen.org/qsen-task-force-on-high-quality-mathematical-preparation-for-nurses/) and to Join the Task Force - please sign up here: http://bit.ly/QSENMathTaskForce
